The members of the Colonial club on High street enjoyed Thursday evening another one of the series of entertainments being held at the club this winter. The attraction was Scott and Bayrd of Boston in this original two-anan ministrel show. It was a short, snappy entertainment, lasting about an hour, during which time the black-faced artists gave their audicace a barrel of fun with impersonations, songs, choruses, bones and cambee. The jokes were particularly intresting as they were applied to the member of the club.

Following the entertainment a lunch was served. Thursday night was ladded in the club.
